Project Narrative *

This year will be the 12th annual Earth Sciences Student Colloquium at Montana State University in Bozeman. During the conference we hold a poster session. We would like to request a couple of MAGIP members to participate as judges. We would also like to request a donation of the map contest prize for best map (~$200) and a runner up (~$100). The amount of time for viewing and judging map presentations will be around 2 hours. We would also like to discuss some other potential roles for MAGIP in facilitating GIS support and professional development for prospective GIS professionals. The field of GIS serves to benefit from this activity through relationship building with the MAGIP network and through professional development for prospective GIS professionals. I'd be happy to provide more information is needed. My phone number has been provided.

Project Start Date *	Thursday, April 13, 2017
Project Completion Date	Thursday, April 13, 2017
Applicant Resources to be committed to this project*	The colloquium is entirely organized and run by student volunteers. We have received numerous donations from local businesses and organizations.
